There's a nice approach to this problem that uses vector cross products. Define the 2-dimensional vector cross product  $\vec{v} \times \vec{w}$  to be  $v_x w_y - v_y w_x$ . Suppose the two line segments run from  $p$  to  $p + r$  and from  $q$  to  $q + s$ . Then any point on the first line is representable as  $p + t r$  (for a scalar parameter  $t$ ) and any point on the second line as  $q + u s$  (for a scalar parameter  $u$ ).

The metric system is an internationally adopted decimal system of measurement. It is in widespread use, and where it is used, it is the only or most common system of weights and measures. It is now known as the International System of Units (SI). It is used to measure everyday things such as the mass of a sack of flour, the height of a person, the speed of a car, and the volume of fuel in its tank.
